John & Ruth Kelly welcome you to...

...The Riverbank Restaurant

John and Ruth Kelly opened the Riverbank Restaurant in 2009 to run alongside their already successful Clubhouse Gastro Bar. Since then, The Riverbank has become a popular dining destination winning numerous awards for its home cooked food and friendly staff. At The Riverbank Restaurant the focus is on flavour, using the best of fresh Leitrim produce and a warm professional welcome for all.

The secret to their success...
The FOOD of course!

A very warm welcome to our...

...Clubhouse Gastro Bar

The Clubhouse is well-known locally for its seriously good food at very reasonable prices and for the warm welcome that awaits all. It is a place where family and friends gather for great food, great pints and great times.

This family run, traditional Irish Bar is steeped in history and with its open log fire and the banter, its no surprise that visitors to this beautiful part of the North West find their way to its door.

Chef John...

Head Chef and co-proprietor, Chef John's love for cooking started in his mother's kitchen when he was just a young boy. It was then that he also developed an appreciation of home grown produce as he helped to prepare the freshly grown vegetables from his father's garden. At 16, John began a four-year stint with the renowned chef Nevin Maguire followed by four years working in the French restaurant 'Montmartre' in Co. Sligo. Opening a restaurant in his home town of Dromahair has always been a dream of John's of which he realised in 2009.
